This year marks the Company's 120th anniversary, and in March, the group was listed on the Tokyo Stock Exchange Prime Market. The group regards these milestones as an important opportunity to reaffirm its purpose and values, thereby strengthening the unity of the entire JX Advanced Metals Group in its commitment to delivering even greater value to society.

From its origins in resources development at the Hitachi Mine, the group has continuously evolved to meet society's ever-changing needs. From copper that powered electrification to advanced materials supporting electronic devices and recycling that enables resource circulation, the group has consistently created value for a brighter future in each era.

Furthermore, throughout the history since its founding with the opening of the Hitachi Mine, the group has cultivated a spirit of “fearlessly embracing change and failure, fostering cross-boundary discussions and harmony among people, and developing sustainably with society.” This spirit continues to be cherished today as essential to creating value.

This philosophy embodies the group's commitment to remain steadfast in its pursuit of innovation and its dedication to enriching people's lives, even as the world grows increasingly uncertain and complex, and value creation becomes ever more difficult.

Furthermore, to help all members of the group live by this philosophy, the group has set up a Promotion Office and will take concrete steps to embed it in its daily activities.

Going forward, the group will make this philosophy the foundation of everything it does. In partnership with its stakeholders, the group will contribute to a brighter future through value creation.
